

The 12 Lessons of Oneness

A Series of Twelve Energy Transmissions

*Message Two: Blessing the Coming Storm
Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa
Delivered at TOSA Ranch, Tijeras, NM
November 24, 2007*

Archangel Zadkiel speaks:

Yes. Hello. It is a joyous adventure indeed to be together again, and again, and again! Yes! How often we are together in so many ways. How often we gift ourselves with the recognition that we are moving ever faster in a world of great experience.

In a world of great experience, as we are moving ever faster, as you are indeed floating, as you may say, in an ocean of density, it is a great gift when one can simply stop, be, and ask themselves, “Where are my blessings?”

Recognizing the Blessing of Allness

What is a blessing? As we move forward through Allness, reunifying into Oneness, as the Oneness cycle comes forward with great profound energy now, as you have allowed yourself the opportunity to walk through the expansion of all expression, all energy, all form of beingness, as the Allness has now, and is now, coming into Oneness, as you come into Oneness, it is a gift to recognize that there are many blessings. Many blessings! Yet, in the Allness, and the expression of the word blessing, the energy of a blessing, one must ask themselves (one must go deep within),

“What is a blessing; what is considered a blessing?”

Is it perhaps something that can expand into Allness, as you are coming into Oneness? In the Allness of all blessings, there is a Divine recognition that each moment, each second, each precious gift, is indeed a blessing. Perhaps a blessing is not something that is given to you. Perhaps a blessing is an energy that you choose to receive, that you choose to recognize, that you choose to be in Divine presence with. Perhaps the blessing is that you are indeed here right in this moment now, recognizing, being, expanding, understanding, and allowing the gift of Divine energetic upliftment, allowing the Allness of all form, of all expression that has ever been in any way, to fully embrace you, to fully envelop your energy with great love, presence, passion, and recognition.

Perhaps a blessing is that you are simply able to be, to know, to be in a recognized state of fully embracing ALL energy as you hold the space of your Divine Oneness in presence.

Counting Your Blessings

Beloved Ones, it is a great gift when you are able to count blessings. It is an even greater gift when the expansion of counting blessings becomes the recognition of ALL experience, ALL experience, not just that which you perceive as a personal experience or a personal undertaking or a personal expansion or a personal recognition.

Perhaps, as you are at the cycle of Oneness, you are at the absolute recognition that in Oneness, Allness has expressed and will continue to express. It will not go away. It is a reunification energy that comes forward in One energy, and in the One energy, in the Living, as you would say, in the expressing as Oneness, the Divine blessings of Allness manifest with great frequency. Allness is manifesting with great frequency, as a blessing to the Divine reunion of Oneness.

Daily Blessing Practice

Perhaps it is a great gift for you to be able to spend even one moment each day literally counting your blessings. Perhaps you will run out of toes and fingers to do so. Perhaps it will be more than that; perhaps you repeat again. Perhaps as you experience this moment each day, you gift yourself with a broader expansion, an Allness energy of a blessing. As you spend each day expressing the Allness of each blessing that has come forward for thee, for recognition, for acceptance, for alignment, then you will be able to recognize the Oneness energy of these many events.

A moment, a daily moment of conscious connection to the energetic blessings that are pouring forward to you in all experience, will connect your Divine DNA into a stream of Universal component, where you will receive a greater conduit of clear stream, of what you would call wisdom, clarity, recognition, and understanding.

So many in your world call out now, “Stop me from judging!” or perhaps demand to know why their judgments are correct; it does not matter. The great gift is that these are ALL blessings! If you are not clear, can you count that as a blessing?

“Thank you, Beloved Universe, for showing me where I am still releasing, where I am still reclaiming, where I am seeking to capture the Universe.”

Perhaps there is nothing to capture. Perhaps you just open your heart to BE. Perhaps the interchange with others that seeks to influence your own recognition is a blessing, because with the recognition, you are being called into a state of Oneness through Allness expressing to you. If you are being called away to clarity, you are gifted with the blessings of trusting yourself.

The Blessing of Being C.R.A.Z.Y.

Beloved Ones, you are at a great momentous time, for in Oneness there is great trust, great trust, and it must begin with thyself. The closer that you call forth this great gift of Oneness to thyself, the more those around you will express in their Allness and seek to keep offering you the blessing! Are you sure? Are you sure? Perhaps you are crazy! Maybe! What is crazy?

Perhaps crazy is Clarity Revealed And Zealous Yeses! C.R.A.Z.Y.! Clarity Revealed and Zealous Yeses! Yes! Perhaps you are crazy! You can run around and stomp up and down and say “I AM CRAZY!” Good. What a blessing!

Beloved Angels of Light, beloved crystalline beings of Divine presence and treasured understanding, your presence is a blessing. Can you start with that each day? “I claim that my presence is a blessing.” Simply start with, “I claim that my presence is a blessing, and I am grateful that all who have made their presence toward me today are a blessing,” without judging the presence. Perhaps they are crazy, too! It is OK! Yes, Angels.

In Oneness, All is released, and All is expressed, and All is reunified.

In your time now, in what you call linear time now, there are many, many choices are there not? So many choices, so many options, so many ways to be able to express your Divine joy. Each is a blessing.

Joy is always found within ALL interaction. That is a choice.

Can you find the joy in all interaction?

If you can not, can you joyously have mercy on yourself that you did not?

Yes!

Beloved Angels, in judgment of the Self, you are still expressing Allness. This is indeed an expression of Allness, is it not? For as you are here in this world, to judge yourself is Allness. You are here to express in Allways; judgment would be One of the Allways. It is infinite! Judgment is infinite. It is infinite! How does one let go of infinite judgment? When you step into the infinite and become it, then you are no longer reacting to being governed by an infinite energy.

You recognize the Oneness of the energy, and that there can not be anything in Oneness that does not support your Universal connectivity. This is a powerful discernment. Until you step back into the Universality that you are, everything will come forward and almost feel as a fracture. It will feel as a pain. It will feel as an emotional hurt. It will do its best to take you away from your presence of joy...until you step into it, recognizing and celebrating that it is your joy.

All that expresses around you IS You; it is not outside of you. It is a piece of you that says,

“Are you ready to heal me? Are you ready to claim me again? Are you ready to let go of the denial that I am you, as you are me?”

It does not mean that you must accept that which makes you feel uncomfortable. What it does mean is that you can recognize that within the discomfort is Oneness seeking to express, is Wholeness seeking to come forward. This is the gift. Beloved Ones, as you offer to yourselves this gift, as you offer to yourselves the opportunity to be, to know, and to recognize, as your Allness is seeking Oneness, ask yourself often, “Am I crazy?” What will you say? Perhaps yes, perhaps no!

Embracing the Coming Storm

It is a great gift, and in the great gift and connection, one must understand that at this time in your world, there is a great storm. Beloved Ones, this storm is an Allness expression. The energy that you command is without limit. It is part of that limitless expression, is it not? As you are part of this limitless expression, of course, you would create a great storm, because a great storm commands attention, does it not?

A storm comes forward and cleanses, it moves, it is fluid, and it has its own cycle. It births, it is alive, and then it transforms, leaving in its wake revitalization.

Perhaps in your world now, you see revitalization from little mini storms. While the storm is coming forward, how do you respond? Do you panic? Do you fear?

Oh, my goodness, there is a storm coming, button down the hatches, put up the boards, run away! How do you respond to the storms in your life? When the storm is here, what do you do? Do you hide or do you step into the eye of the storm where there is a peaceful center, and recognize the storm is around you, and is not you?

Recognize you are always safe. You are always safe.

You are always deeply within the Oneness energy of your Universal stream of Divine presence. Then when the storm is gone, how do you respond to the shift? All storms create shift. All storms create shift. Often after a firestorm, soil is refertilized, is it not? Often after your snow, crystals appear, rejuvenation comes forward. After a great rain, thirst is quenched, the earth is cool, revitalization comes forward.

Beloved Angels, we offer you the analogy of the storm, because your world is in a stormy time. How do you respond to the storm?

Many in your world now have stopped counting blessings and started counting their fears, have they not? “I am afraid of this, I am afraid of that, must take a pill for this, take a pill for that, maybe I will be less afraid, maybe I will not...” OK! This is one way to respond to the storm, and it is not the only way. Perhaps when the storm is coming, you can say, “I do not need an umbrella; I am ready to stand in the rain and see it as a baptism of Divine energy, to recognize that renewal and revitalization are upon me, upon us all. Perhaps I can smile at the storm and say, ‘Thank you for bringing us to this moment now.’ Perhaps I can walk through any piece of the storm, knowing there is a safe space always, within every storm.”

Beloved Angels, if you try to avoid the storm, you will indeed be hit by it. It will find you; we can assure you of this. You can not hide! You can not run! You can either really go into the storm, or you can allow yourself to find the peace within it. Perhaps the blessings of the storm is that it’s calling you to find your peace. Are you crazy? Maybe so!

Recognizing You Are Ready

You are the Blessing. As you take this time each day to count your blessings, expanding what a blessing is, understanding that with all interaction, the Allness has come forward with great propensity to unification energy. Yes, you are at a great shift of cycles. There are many names for these cycles, are there not? Many names. Perhaps all of these cycles have one universal recognition that the storm is here because the time has come that you are ready, that you have grown up as they say, that you are indeed transforming.

You are beautiful beyond words, beyond space, beyond your time, and this cycle that you have chosen to be present for, this shift of one cycle into another, brings your Divine presence, your heart, into a greater alignment, a recognition, a service, as you would say, with all that has ever been, into the Divine Oneness of All That Is.

You have done it all. You have done it all, and you will continue doing it until you say, “OK, this is good, too!”

Count your blessings, and then you will step into the center of the storm, where you are the portal of Oneness, and in the portal of Oneness, your cycle begins again, and you hold presence for all.

All are free to have the experience. All are free to be in Divine self trust. Beloved Ones, each day that you take the moment to count your blessings without judgment, you build self trust. To go into a storm demands self trust.

Some will try to drag you; they will drag your hand, “Get out here in the storm!” and you say, “No.” OK. You can let go of that hand, too, and say, “No,” or you can walk in on your own, trusting your Divine clarity, your Divine recognition. As you gain momentum in your own clarity, as you embody self trust without doubt, then you are ready to stand in the center.

Each moment you stand in the center, you gain the clarity of centered Oneness, and the more often you stand in the center, the easier it becomes.

Each time you find yourself in the storm, and that you are able to smile and recognize, “Here I am in the storm again,” you gain ever more clarity.

Beloved Ones, we count you in our blessings. May you count yourself in your blessings. May you recognize that you are the transcendent energy of Divine Love in body now, and that Oneness is why you came. Can you celebrate you have done it? Can you gift yourself with the recognition that you are here, right now, at the timing of this cycle, in your world, that every being you spend a moment with, offers you a blessing?

Every plant, every animal, every energy, every being, every chair, everything, the limitless recognition of Allness is, yes, dancing its way into Oneness, and...

You Are Here Now! Take a breath, Beloved Angels. Yes!

Questions and Answers

How may we serve you? We will take your questions.

Audience member asks: The physical body seems to have difficulty with the accelerated energies - the organs, the adrenals, kidneys, liver, for example. Do you have recommendations on how to help the body heal?

Oh, yes! Many! This is why we have brought the soul nourishment back to this planet. Beloved Ones, powerful question, no? Yes! This is a big question, we will take our time.

When the density vessel came forward in this world to be able to be a vehicle of Divine expression for the gift of your infinite present energy, the vehicle was designed to align itself comfortably with the energies of this world, given a cycle that the body would be able to sustain its vibrational harmony, in what you would call time in linear years, until it would be time to shed this body to come back and have another body. OK. Point One.

Point Two. Earlier, many, many, many years ago in this world, the vibrational level was much, much higher. So the vessels lasted much, much longer, and there was a greater level of vibrational harmony that provided for the body, and the ingestion of food was very minimal as you would consider it today. Ingestions were very different. There was a much more naturally organic balance between the carbon-based energy of this planet and the body, thereby sustaining it for what you would consider to be hundreds of years.

This was prior to what many of you call the Great Flood on this world. After the birthing of that Great Storm that came forward, which was indeed another cycle in this world, the density vehicle and the sustenance and the vibration of the planet lowered itself to be able to begin another cycle, and has been greatly increasing every since.

Since your millennium, the vibrational fields in your planet have exponentially gained momentum. This is because you are at the turning of the cycles. It is a great gift because many, many will reach what you would call the enlightened state in greater numbers than would have ever been in a millennium of years! OK, good news.

The perhaps not so good news, is that your bodies, if they align nutritionally to a pattern of eating designed for a densified experience, will respond very strongly. This is a choice, of course.

Have you noticed in your world, how many people are sick, as they say? A great rise in artificial stimulation to bodies to keep them alive, have you noticed this? Your bodies are so extraordinarily wonderful, that they call to you all the time, and say “Hello, are you listening? Hello. What do you want to do?”

Each “Hello” is a choice. Do you choose to be depressed? OK, you can take a pill or perhaps you can allow yourself to say, “Who is taking the pill, the body or the truth of my precious beingness? Who needs the little purple pill to digest?” Yes.

Your choice is simple. How you say yes to the choice is where the body of density will do its best to take you away. Where do you wish to align vibrationally? If the egoic mind believes it is enlightened, and the emotional body wants to eat a product of the chemicalized density, there will be a great reaction in the body, and this is OK. Count it as a blessing because it offers one the opportunity to say, “Who baby, big split still inside me!”

Who is eating? Who is aligning? So you ask, how can we support the body?

We have offered to you, Beloved Ones, for many years now, we have encouraged you to recognize that your vibrational planet has lifted. If you wish to lift comfortably with it, yes, there are things you must shift. Yes, the planet is shifting, and so are you! And it is your choice, of course. If you choose not to shift with that vibrational energy, your body will offer to you everything you need to know, and we encourage you to make a clear choice.

WISDOM TEACHER

SRI RAM KAA

ANGELIC ORACLE

KIRA RAA

It is the consistent, “Yes/No, Yes/No, Yes/No, Maybe, OK,” that will indeed make your body react. Get clear! Stay clear! Be clear! Perhaps you need to be crazy! Yes!

And so it is. And so we are. And so you are, Beloved Ones.

May you, each moment of every day, remember that you are the gift, that you are the blessing, and may you take one moment each day and count your blessings, expanding the recognition. We are indeed grateful for this moment with you now, and in the storm, Be, Allow, and Feel your heart open ever more.

May each day, each day, allow doubt to dissipate even more, and each moment fill you with self trust, recognition, and Oneness.

Many Blessings.

TOSA CENTER FOR ENLIGHTENED LIVING

THE PATH OF SELF-ASCENSION

HIGHER LOVE TALK RADIO

AVESA QUANTUM HEALING INSTITUTE

WWW.SELFASCENSION.COM