

The 12 Lessons of Oneness

A Series of Twelve Energy Transmissions

Message Four

Oneness: The Truth without Doubt

Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa

Delivered at TOSA Ranch, Tijeras, NM

January 26, 2008

Archangel Raphael enters Kira Raa's body for the first time ever!

Beloved Ones of many worlds, you ask who we are, and we wish to offer to you that we are the one you know as Raphael. We come to you today because your planet is at a time of abundant healing. So often we are with you. So often you heal in many ways that are often perhaps unbeknownst to the will of a soul that seeks great healing.

The Great Moment: Releasing Doubt

We see many organs, we see many hearts, and we see many energies that spiral with golden recognition. As we see, there is what you would term resistance...known, (in your world), as doubt. The healing, that is upon your world now, is the recognition that you are at the great moment of releasing all doubt.

Doubt is held as a gift. It is a way to embrace love. It is a way to move forward. It is a profound healer; for when you doubt, you are offering yourself a moment, just a moment...of presence.

Because you doubt, you are present with yourself and you open a great healing portal that will offer the release of doubt.

Your organs and tissues and bodies, we have celebrated forever, as you would say. And in the celebration of the forever-ness of your bodies, there is a great and profound and glorious healing upon you now, because you have asked for it.

You must ask.

*As you ask, you do receive, and the emerald light surrounds you with great abundance.
All you need do is ask for clarity, and walk without doubt, and when you do doubt, to recognize the healing principles of love in motion.*

Healing the Brain

If your body has ever experienced illness or pain, if you body has been with profound love, joy and bliss, each is the same, there is no difference. It is the emotionality of this world that offers a judgment or perspective that one is better than another, that one is more preferred than another, because it is inciting your energy field to Oneness.

You are being invited and incited to Oneness. How you respond, or as you would say RSVP, is your choice, AND we stand with you in all ways. There are legions of what you refer to as angels from many worlds that are around thee now. Legions...Legions.

The word angel, or the word Archangel, is a misnomer in many ways, and yet clarifying for this world to assist a brain that is healing. Your brains are healing. Your brains are healing. Until your brain heals, your body will continually demonstrate where your brain is seeking healing.

The body is a servant of the brain, as the brain is a servant of you.

When you understand that this trinity can serve from great wholeness, then the understanding of Oneness is apparent, there is nothing logically to perceive.

Logic...a search for logic, a search for mental stimulation, a seeking for the sake of seeking, a doubt of wholeness, these are energies that have brought your world now to the time where the brain can heal.

The brain is healing, is whole, and in the wholeness and health of the brain, the vibrancy of the body transcends all realms.

Your tissues, your organs, your flesh as they say, become a unified presence of Light. You will find that in the unified presence of Light, food becomes of a much different vibration. In this moment now, we come to you because you called us with a great healing call. You attuned your vibrations for healing, you opened up a portal of invitation, and it was with a sincere heart that the invitation is responded to.

We wish to offer to you a great recognition. Our beloved brothers are speaking through with you also. The Uriel seeks only one thing, that you are in a great recognition that your doubt is only a way to move you through to sincere understanding into a realm where all energy is received.

Archangel Raphael exits and Archangel Uriel speaks:

Understanding Doubt and Pain

Let us explain this to you. Many cry out in pain, asking simply for pain to be removed. “Take my pain.” Whether it is a pain of heart, whether it is a pain of brain, whether it is a pain of body, whether it is a pain of any form of illusion, when a call is made to take away pain, the response is at the level of the body, the level of this world, and there are beautiful elements of this world that will help alleviate pain, many.

To be sincerely in the Oneness recognition that all is responded, received and understood, there is not a call to take the pain, there is the call to invite the pain to reveal the gift. It is a sincere call; you call to that which has called to you. When you call beyond that which has called to you, you are denying that. You are saying “it is bad,” you are offering it a judgment, and so it will anchor.

Call to that which calls to you; this will free the portal that will open the greater recognition and doorway. There are many steps to Oneness, and each step is a profound rung on the ladder of your recognition.

What “who” do you call to? In the time that you are in, in the calling you have brought forward, you are taking each step, and sometimes the step is backwards, and sometimes the step is forward, and sometimes the step is up, and sometimes the step is down. Each is a step, up-down, back-forward, still has it’s own flow and it is a recognition that your brain is seeking the healing that the Raphael has come to talk to you about, to share with you about.

Understanding Dominion

In the days of what you would call Golden Ages, and there have been many, it is through the manipulation of healing energy that one begins doubt. It is through the seeking of dominion over another that doubt arises. To seek dominion is a greater expression of a heart that says I am not enough as I am, I must conquer another, I must kill another. This very interesting energy in your world has manifested in many ways, and in many layers, and has continually shifted with great ages.

In the Golden Ages, there is a recognition that balance is true power.

Many have manifested this as what you would call sign posts along the way, and at a time of great Oneness, it is the balance that will find the way. Ask yourself, where do I seek dominion? Then ask, what do you seek dominion of?

When you cry out for help, are you denying that which is showing you the gift?
What are you crying for?

Indeed your world is in bondage in many ways. Slavery, as you would call it, is alive and well here, yet it is self-imposed, and this is the gift.

What are you a slave to? What or who is the master of that slavery?
For many, the answer is the mind.

The greatest embodiment or task master of this world, at this time, is not a government, it is not a country, it is not an energy that is found anywhere else except between your ears. We offer this gift to you because your mind is healing, and as a mind seeks healing, it will fight for its life.

There is, in your world now, in this linear year of the calendar, many who are seeking to grab dominion of your mind. In your heart is the true One that has the gift and the presence and the right as you would say, to have dominion, yet your doubt interferes with that connection.

Beloved children of a world in healing, claim your dominion, claim your truth, stand without doubt and when you cry out for your help, cry first to that which can truly help you, the energy that has caused the cry.

The Energy of Oneness

As you practice receiving gift after gift, after gift, after gift, then the gifting becomes your life. As you are receiving gift, after gift, after gift, you are giving gift, after gift, after gift.

This is the energy of Oneness: when you can truly without doubt know your dominion without doubt, know your truth without doubt, and see this alive and well in those who have yet to see it alive and well themselves. You will hold this energy for others only when you release the doubt of yourself.

This is not a little step process; this is the giant leap across the cavern! Each will leap at the right time, and sometimes you leap and you find yourself in the river at the bottom. This is OK because all rivers have gentle streams, if you allow them to be. Then you wake up and realize you are at the cavern again. The key is to keep leaping.

Leap, leap, leap! You are not at the time of hesitancy. In the energy of your world now, the energies will seek dominion because there is a war.

There is a great war in your world; there is the war for dominion of your brain.

That is the war and it is a great one, and it is manifest in many ways. We do not need to reiterate because you know these ways, they are all out there, and there are many. Many. Many.

Make your decision. Claim your stake for dominion of your brain. Let the brain heal. Let the energy balance, and Beloved Ones, when you seek, however well-intended, to assist another who has not invited that assistance, you are trying to claim dominion of their brain.

You can not claim dominion of another brain; it is not yours to do. To do so, fuels the great war, and there are many who are fueling the great war with their brain.

Be the One. Let your words escape with kindness or leave them to yourself, and as you do, you must ask yourself: "Have I been inadvertently unkind in any way?"

Here is a small example of inadvertent unkindness; do you own a plant? Do you water it, or do you watch it die? That is to be inadvertently unkind. Do you have a little animal? Do you feed it, or let it go hungry? Kindness is not just a words, kindness is your truth.

In kindness there is balance. Be kind to yourself. Do you run yourself ragged as they say? Do you deny yourself proper nourishment? Do you think it is your birthright to live on a bed of nails? Then we invite you to ask where the dominion of the brain is.

Be kind to yourself. Your kindness becomes others.

Seek dominion only of your presence, so that your presence frees others to have dominion of themselves.

Be in Oneness, the truth without doubt.

Pay attention to your hearts. Have dominion for you.

Be the present for others and know how loved you are.

Many Blessings to you!
