Unified Consciousness & Magnetism

Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa

Delivered in Ft. Lauderdale, FL

March 1, 2008

Archangel Zadkiel speaks:

There is a beloved master within each being, is there not? Yes! It is a great hello and buoyancy that is offered to you, to each and every one of you. It is indeed a great momentous occasion when one is able to come forward and celebrate the recognition of unified consciousness, arriving through the stream of a heart that has Ascended Awakening, Ascended Opening and Great Presence.

In great presence there is great love, and with great love there is great presence.

Great Presence is Magnetism

What is it to carry great presence? It is a magnetism. It is an opening. It is the recognition of complete unification with the energetic field of matter that has created the body that you carry now.

The bodies that you carry now are very magnetic. They are realigning with the great magnetism of that which you call the Earth in a movement toward the center of a universal stream of light. Many of you call this the Milky Way. You know of the Milky Way? Yes! Tastes good! Yes indeed it does, and how appropriate it would be sweet and yummmifful, because in the sweet and yummmifful, your world is moving into the center of what many call the Milky Way now.

You are becoming most sweet and most yummmifful. As you do this, and as your world does this in very what you call short years, you will be in the presence of a magnetic strata that will open up a divine portal of recognition that will burst forward an opportunity to release all illusion...All illusion. ..All illusion!

When one is able to recognize the profound expansiveness of Allness in the conjunction with illusion, it can become as you would say a “mind freak-out.” Yes. The mind has so much to consider. If All in this world is truly illusion, what is beyond this world, Beloved Ones? What is this world then, and how is your participation in this world a greater gift than perhaps your heart has opened to let you know?

*You are the great participant and the great gift.
There is no separation between the gift and the participation.
Your participation is the gift, as the gift is your participation.*

What is Healing?

You are at, and have arrived at, a time when many are seeking great healing, are they not? This is happening in many ways. Heal the mind, heal the body, heal the soul...! This word "heal" itself needs to be healed, does it not? Yes.

There is great perception and misperception in what it means to be healed. Perhaps it is what it means to be "wholed." To be in the wholeness of Allness is the recognition of the understanding of the perpetude and the great magnetism that you are calling forth now from deep within the center of a universal stream of consciousness that has come forward now in great magnitude.

*We offer this to you to understand because you are shifting in a way and a manner that, for some of the bodies, may be uncomfortable.
There will be new energies, as there are ancient energies.*

What is new? This is another word that can be so limiting, can it not? To say something is new, is to believe and to offer a stream of consciousness that it has not been before, and yet all has all-ways been.

*All always is.
All will always be.*

To classify, to offer realms of classification, is a concept of density born of Allness in the recognition of the unification to Oneness. All that is old will be new again. It is a cycle. All that is new will be old again. It is a cycle. All that is, has always been.

Claiming Your Passionate Power

There is great magnetism that is bursting forth from your world. For many this is being experienced as if you are your own volcano. For as a volcano builds and builds and sits in dormancy, what happens? It blows its head off does it not? Yes! Perhaps it is the time to blow your head off! Yes...a great eruption of power. A great passion of power!

For the passion of power must come from the Passionate Ascension of the portal that you call the solar plexus. Bring your hands to your solar plexus. Yes. This seed, for indeed it is a seed, the seed of the solar plexus in its Passionate Ascension brings forth a crucible whereby you are the magnetism and the magnet, the magma of the Universe allowing great opportunity to come forth, to be passionately intertwined with the DNA that carries a body, to be released, loved, recognized, opened and cherished.

As you feel into this area, perhaps you close your eyes if you like, what color do you see?

Let go of color as you've been told it should be, and as you touch into the space of your own solar plexus, what color do you feel?
What color do you experience?
What color do you see?

In this passionate crucible of the solar plexus you are creating a magnetic field that will open up the dormancy to Universal connection.

Now take a deep breath, and bring your hands to your heart.

As your heart stabilizes as a root center of Ascended energies, in a world that is magnetized and moving into the central layer of what you call Milky Way, it is the passionate crucible unified with the energy of this heart that brings forth great magnetic principles in action.

Magnetic Principles in Action

What happens with magnetic principles? Bring your hands to your forehead. As you bring your hands to your forehead, now breathe up that which you have experienced in the passionate crucible of the solar plexus through a stabilized heart center, into an opening.

Feel the wind move through your head. Feel the gift of Divine In-lightenment as "Lightenment." Feel this energy buoyantly lifting. There is no chair, there is no body, there is no room...there is the Divine center of the universal recognition of all that has ever been, pulsing through you, as you and with you.

Now take deep breath and relax. Yes.

This precious gift, this opening to the magnetism, is a powerful gift when practiced often. It is powerful because it aligns you with the magnetism.

Let us discuss this more, for in your world, there has been much experimentation with magnets. Use a magnet for this, use a magnet for that, it will do this, will do that.

You are the magnet! You are the magnet! You are the magnet!

You are the positive and the negative, the light and the dark, you are the magnet. You are both poles. When you see magnets come together, in what many call the wrong ends, what happens? They repel, do they not? They fly away from each other. Simply reverse them, and what happens? They stick like crazy. They come together.

Beloved ones, this is indeed your energy field, a great magnet in the Universal consciousness that is aligning now with the central core energies of the Universe. Perhaps we should say, remembering the central core energies of the Universe, because you have always been this, and you will always be this.

As you are practicing this memory...this conscious recognition of the magnetism that you are? You must ask yourself, which pole are you? Are you repelling energies that you seek to attract? Or, are you getting them to stick like glue? What is it you are bringing into your conscious field right now? Perhaps you say ok, recently I wanted to attract (bring it to mind), recently I sought to attract to my life (bring it in). .. follow through the process.

What brought it to your consciousness to begin with? Why was this something to attract to your life and how have you followed through with this? As you have either brought it to you or not, what is the next energy...not thought...energy...that has come behind it, with it, as part of it?

You see, Beloved Ones, the energy of your magnetism will demonstrate the truth of your heart in the Ascended space. Your words will not do this.

It will be the energy of your magnetism. Those around you will stick or repel based upon the energy of their heart, in alignment with the magnetism and the frequency of the joy energy that is being carried.

Magnetism and Universal Flow

Let us explain. Perhaps you start a project, whatever this project is, it could be a little project, big project, it does not matter. You start a project, and you reach out to create the finished product. It could be as simple as cooking a cake. You have to go find the ingredients, then the way to cook it, etc. Or it could be a big project that involves many people, it does not matter, but you create this project.

Where is the energy magnetizing around the project?

Where do you find sincerity around the project?

What becomes effortless around the project?

What becomes challenging?

The “whos,” or the “whats,” that are needed in the project, how are they aligned with thee on a consistent basis?

Perhaps you made your cake, and then got very sick when you ate it. Pay attention. Perhaps you started the project with many happy people, and yet not all follow through. Pay attention. Every aspect of all outcomes is a reflection of that which is in your own energy field seeking wholeness now, seeking resolution now. It is as if you have taken the magnet and flipped the other side. You go to the solar plexus first. Go to the solar plexus first.

For example, in your world right now, there is a big solar plexus expression. Big! Big! A seeking of the power, seeking of dominion, a seeking of...Yet when one feels into the solar plexus in the Passionate Ascended form, staying within the magnetic field of that which has come forward, balance comes in.

What is it that you seek in this magnetism? What is it that you are expressing in your magnetism?

Beloved Ones, we offer this to you because in the recognition that you are the magnet, you are able to express greater forms of discerning joy. In discernment of joy comes effervescence, and effervescence is a state of recognition and way of being that will consistently lift one into Divine realms of power through union with the universal understanding of magnetism through all that has ever been, as one comes back into the Oneness of all that is.

This is mouthful as they say, and yet it is a powerful mouthful. To recognize your truth and express it, to align your magnetism in a universal flow, offers you the effervescence to float amongst the time of realignment.

Experiencing Alignment

When one has a crooked spine, does it not hurt? Yes. When one has as they would say, a slipped disc, do they not cry out, going “ouchie?” Yes, they do. Your world, as they say, has a slipped disc or two. It is crying out, and the spine of this world seeks to be realigned. When a great, as you would say, chiropractic adjustment occurs to the planet, many will feel refreshed, many will feel relieved, and many will not understand.

Magnetism is a gift when one aligns with the understanding of the universal preciousness that you are. You are a precious bird as they say. You are a precious bird. Each carrying an energy of this world, in integration of universal streams of consciousness, that have forever flown in many beautiful harmonic ways.

How do you wish to be?
Where are you alignments?

Beloved children, as your world comes into this great universal stream of harmony now, it is your turn to dance again, to be the magnetic understanding and alignment. When you walk, when each step is a presence of Divine balanced harmony, with each footstep you offer into the earth an adjustment that says “I am awake, I understand. I am awake, I understand. Thank you.” Be present.

Then the adjustment is subtle and soft, is it not? It is not a “big whap you upside the head!” Yes! Yet your world right now is not sure of the message being sent to her, so she can only respond based upon her own ability to understand what it is you seek.

Your clarity comes through your magnetism enhanced. As your magnetism is enhanced, you are divinely supported in ways that are beyond a mind.

Universal abundance is limitless, as are you.
In the universal limitless of all abundance, be clear, be a magnet, pay attention.
Be passionate in your ascension!

Bring into the fiery crucible of your solar plexus all the pain, all the hurt, all the confusion, and say be gone.
Transmute. Bring it in.

As you hold the energy there and allow this transmutation, you lift up into the heart, you breathe up into the center of the forehead, and activate the pituitary and you say “Hello. Hello. I AM a Divine being of great light. Beloved Earth, feel me with each footstep. I have arrived! Whew, long journey, glad I am here now.”
And so it is. And so you are.

Question from the audience:

I'm feeling my energy is a little blocked, and it's preventing me from moving forward in different areas of my life. How would I best go about removing blockages and moving on with the different areas of my life?

This is a powerful question and we wish for you also to know that many, many right now in your world are feeling blocked. Many! You ask this question for many. It is important to know that as the great energy of magnetism comes forward, oftentimes one will feel blocked because of a need to balance the poles so to speak. There are three magical ingredients! Yes, we love this!

Magical ingredient number one is your breath.

Magical ingredient number two is the salt of the sea.

Magical ingredient number three is water.

Take your feet, and take a little pot, and put in sea salt, dry first. Then you put your feet on the salt, and really rub them on it. You might say ouchie, but really rub them on it. Then keeping the feet in there, pour in the water, and as you pour in the water, you take the hands and you put the hands in front of the face, and you breathe into the hands with sincere focus and you release into the hands all that which is like little balls of tar in the energy field. Then you take the hands and you bend down and you put them in the sea water with the feet, and you breathe again and again and again. You will be most delighted. And many can use this, thank you for asking!

May you all breathe deeply.

Empower your magnetism. Empower this time on the planet.

Your world is moving very rapidly now, very rapidly now, and you are moving rapidly with it. Remember, you chose to be here.

Remember you are the light of the Universe. You are the light of the Universe.

You are the light of the Universe, and what you do matters.

Be present and open your heart.

When those around you are unable to open their heart, you simply open your eyes and smile, and you thank them within your heart for helping you remember the truth of who you are, their presence, and through your presence they will remember who they are.

Consistency, Dear Ones...gentle chiropractic, no wrenching backs. OK? Good.

And so it is. Many blessings, Beloved Ones. Yes.
