The Cosmic Essene Brethren Speak

Hello Beloved Angels of great light and presence. Hello Beloved Beings of infinite expansion. Hello Beloved Travelers that have journeyed and are journeying, and are continuing to journey.

Celebrating Connection with the Cosmic Heart

There is an effervescence in the energy of celebrating connection. There is effervescence in the energy of celebrating wisdom. For in this effervescence, in this celebration, there is always a magnificence that exists within the depth of the true cosmic heart.

We come to thee today to speak with thee, to celebrate with thee, to share with thee the fathomless depths of the cosmic heart.

For the cosmic heart is a container.
And, it is an expansion. And it is an understanding. And it is an energy.
And it is a moment and it is without a moment.

It is indeed a fathomless energy that is beyond the comprehension of a mind that seeks limitation.

Beloved Angels, when one illuminates the form of this world, what you call a body.

When one illuminates the body with the seed of wisdom that is ever-joined to this cosmic heart, the depth of infinite wisdom gathers with thee; stays with thee; and is eternally in thee.

Many seek this through many names.

Many do not understand it. Many seek not to understand it.

And there are those who seek to remember, reclaim and restore.

Understanding the Connection

Every Being.... Let us begin with this, for it is most important to accept, or at least, to invite to thyself an understanding...that every Being that is in a form - known as a body - in this world now, is connected to a cosmic heart.

There is no such thing as a level of connection.
There is no such thing as one has greater connection than another.
However, there are indeed vast experiences;
and for all of these experiences consider as if they are on the same circle.

Regardless of where you are on the circle, you are all on the same circle!

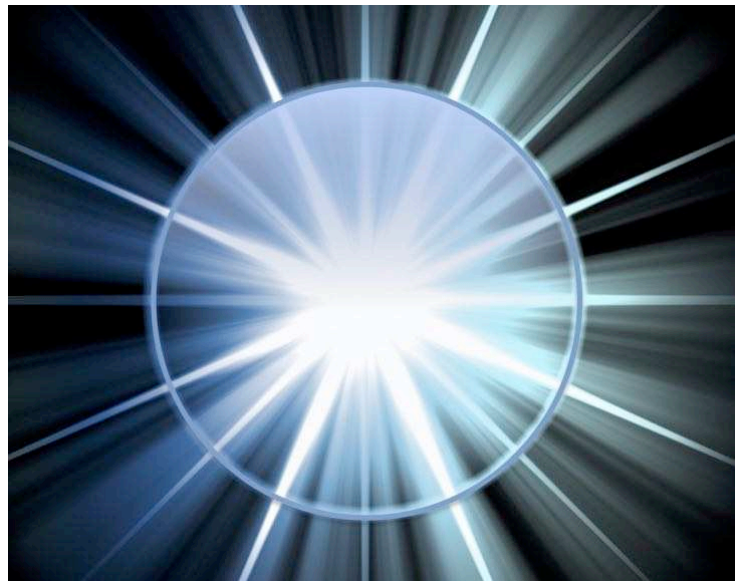

And so perhaps gathered at 12 o'clock on the circle are those who have said, "I know that this is there, when I incarnate I accept this. And I also understand this is my experience to absolutely not connect with this energy while I am in my form of body, for me to reclaim the vast warehouse of knowledge after transition." Okay. Excellent!

And then perhaps, gathered at 3 o'clock on this circle, on this infinite circle that we are simply offering to you as a visual to understand the energy of the fathomless cosmic heart, are those who say, "I will remember. However, I will remember through the multitude of dogma that is available in the world where I am choosing to incarnate. And through this dogma, I will only awaken to that which is pursuant or comfortable or part of the dogma, thereby, this is how I will connect and remember." Okay!

So let us say, simply for the visual example, this is at the 3 o'clock.

Then we move to the 6 o'clock. And in the 6 o'clock there are those who say, "I will remember and then I will forget again. I will remember and then I will forget again. And as I remember, perhaps I will remember through dogma, perhaps I will forget again. And so perhaps I choose to run around the circle many times. Perhaps there are times I am sitting at the 12 o'clock position. Perhaps there are times I am sitting at the 3 o'clock position. Perhaps there are times I am sitting here, at the 6 o'clock position. And perhaps there are times I will be at the 9 o'clock position. It does not matter. I just know that I will experience all and I will claim none. And as I move through these levels that seem to be up then down and up and down, they are actually serving the gift that my soul has chosen to claim during this incarnation."

And then we move to let us say the 9 o'clock.

Do you see that as we have moved to each position, not one is better than another?
Not one has more power than another. Not one is less equal than another.
They are all on the same circle of the cosmic heart.

And at the 9 o'clock position are gathered those who say, "I have come in this form now, to fully remember the cosmic depth of the fathomless heart while in form; while in the form of the body. And during this time, I will indeed break through the boundaries of dogma. I will break through the boundaries of indecision; of yes, no, up, down; or, as many refer to, the polarity or the way that things are learned in this world. I will also invite myself to go beyond what may be prevailing paradigms during my limited timeline in form on the planet so that I may fully reclaim, what we refer to as the state of self-ascension while in form."

To fully reclaim while in form offers a sustaining energy where any at any of these points, let us say, around the circle can be invited to shift.

Let us say that you arrive at a 12 o'clock position. This is a circle, it is fluid. You may find yourself moving to the 3 o'clock, you may find yourself moving to the 6 o'clock, and you may eventually wind up at the 9 o'clock. You may be at the 9 o'clock where you go to the 12 o'clock again.

That is one of the blessings of fathomless cosmic connection.

When it is fathomless, there is not limitation.

And, when the prevailing energy of judgment, which is very, very, very powerful in a world of density, when the prevailing energy of judgment, which is wrapped in fear, can be released, then the fathomless space of the Divine cosmic heart and the infinite gift of the wisdom that is prevailing within thee can ignite the spark within. And this is where the place of miracles that comes forward.

Predator or prey, Victim or Victimizer

Beloved Angels, remember this, in your world, there is either prey or predator. And all are prey or predator. This is most prevalent in the animal kingdom. You are prey or predator, and yet all are predators, are they not?

For even the gentle deer is a predator to the leaf on the tree, because of its need for sustenance.

And in the awakened state of human form and consciousness, you have the vast ability to break free of this. For in the form of the one in the body, you are indeed then victim or victimizer.

And through this victim-victimizer establishes this energy of fear, judgment, and prey and predator.

You see these energies in your political structures.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

You see these energies in your dogmatic structures. You see these energies at all these positions around the circle. Yet they are still parts of the circle.

They all carry connection to the depth of the fathomless cosmic heart.

However, when one is able to release the fear, when one is able to let go, especially of the fear of limited time in a body of form or what many in your world refer to as death. When this fear can be released, you are no longer on the circle, you are no longer at any point in the circle, at the 12, the 1, the 2, the 3, the 4, the 5, the 6, the 7, the 8, the 9, the 10, the 11, back at the 12 again.

Instead, you have transcended to the center.
And in the center, you ascend.
And in the center, you see all.
And in the center you relax.
And in the center you remember.
And in the center you are.

For as you are...I AM.
As you are...I AM.

Invite thyself now to simply see the beauty of the circle;
to understand that the cycles are the circle; that the turning of all energies in the world of illusion are cyclical, and that you are once more in a cyclical return.

And through this cyclical return, there is no judgment.

There is no illusion.

There is no fear.

There is no victim.

There is no victimizer.

There is no prey and there is no predator.

Simply, therefore, I AM.

And so it is.
