The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Cosmic Eye of Shiva Message for Humanity

Through Sri Ram Kaa & Kira Raa at The Temple of Oneness, Terra Nostra, Uruguay

Sri & Kira in the Temple of Oneness with the Cosmic Eye of Shiva Crystal just moments prior to this message.

Kira: The Cosmic Eye crystal has been with us since the Solstice of 2015. We're closing in on one year with this stone. We received the stone right here at Terra Nostra and were simply the custodians of it, it was very clear that it needed to sit here for one year. Little did we ever dream that it would be here permanently. So we're very, very, very grateful for the generosity of our community that raised the donations to secure the crystal.

We started having communions with the Violet Ray Shiva through a series of seven days of communion during which the Violet Ray Shiva was showing me this eye. And it had turned out that this energy was birthing through the Cosmic Eye, which led us here today.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Sri: Absolutely. You know the Cosmic Eye energies and the Shiva Eye energies are a direct connection to the creation energy that is often understood as Lord Shiva.

Kira: If you wish to receive the greatest blessing of the gift that is coming forward now, clear your heart, clear your mind. And they are saying, open all the senses. Open all the senses, including the sense of the Divine intuition.

Sri: So continue to breathe, sending the breath deep into your chest, deep into your heart as that sends a signal to relax. Simply be present.

Breathing fully. Breathing peacefully and trusting your own heart to guide you. As we trust ours to guide us.

The Cosmic Essene begin to speak through Kira Raa:

Arisen are thee that have come forward now to be in the Divine plentitude of all that has ever been. Greetings of joy. Greetings of blessings. Greetings of Diving cosmic oneness and contact are with thee.

This is an abundant time! For the nature of the Divine will has now coming forward, expanding and moving through all.

Feel our heart open as we open the heart of the Divine within.

This is indeed a golden moment, a golden opportunity. And we are smiling broadly. We are igniting all with golden energy of grand and brilliant ignitions of smiles.

This crystalline structure – and we are referring to the structure from which this message is being brought to you. Known as a temple, it is a crystalline structure. Its base is crystalline. It is housed in a crystalline vortex. And it is a crystalline structure from which any that enter its premises can receive the gift of instantaneous Divine connection.

This instantaneous Divine connection is a blessing because you are also the crystalline structure. Merely by connecting with thyself, through us, with this gift now, offers to thee the ignition of the molecular structure within. The ignition of the Divine DNA that opens the ascension frequencies like a song, like a radiant song.

Hear the song of your own Divine heart now,
hear the energy of your own Divine heart now.
You may wish to close your eyes and ignite your ears.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

For each of the senses now, we are offering to you now, also the sacred scent of the Divine temple.
Notice the aroma. Notice the aroma. Notice the energy.

This complete crystalline structure is a – and we use the word intentionally – minute representation of the Divine cosmic crystalline structures of the ascended presence of each being that has chosen to reunify with the strands of crystalline energy that are now forming a grid that have created the fifth dimensional crystalline presence.

We wish to further explain, open your heart, receive this energy at every level. Begin to notice before you now, even if your eyes are closed or open, a gentle blue hue. This gentle blue hue is often reflected in the crystalline structures of what is now melting on your planet, the glacier ice.

Glacial ice carries within it memories and energies of your vast crystalline matrix. The vast crystalline matrix is one that is a gentle, loving, ever-refining spiral. This ever-refining spiral is existing within thee now. It has always existed within thee.

As the glaciers melt – and they will continue to melt – and indeed, there will come a time when but very few remain. As they melt, it is symbolic of the outpouring of Divine love coming to cradle.

Now, you may say, through this melting many will be harmed. Through this melting there may be great harm. Indeed, when one only sees the illusion of density, from the level of the illusion of density, then one sees great chaos. One sees great confusion. One sees, and is indeed fueled by the energy of fear, anger, doubt, misperception.

A lack of – let us use the word – compassionate resonance with the Divine oneness that is the seed of illumination that exists within all.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

The world as you have been experiencing it, has already gifted itself with a twining frequency. In a twining frequency of the third dimensional experience, the glacial thaw, the glacial melting, carries with it great fervor, great chaos, great panic. And this energy is very consistent with the planetary thought body that has been created to sustain this energy. When the energy of fervor meets the planetary thought body that is filled with fear and anger, then judgment becomes considered anointed.

Indeed, there are many – let us use the word – structures that are here to govern those in the third dimension that are currently filled with the energy of fervor, the energy of fear and the energy of misperception, being anointed so that the illusion of safety can be perceived amongst those who are without the anchoring of the basic chakra energies to sustain any form of shift.

As you connect with this energy, begin to notice a subtle pulsing, a subtle vibration that is pulsing first at the base chakra of the spine of the body. As this energy pulses at the base chakra of the spine of the body, it is inviting thee to connect with a harmonic sustenance with a crystalline structure that lifts thee to be able to sustain effortlessly the energy of Divine presence in a fifth dimensional experience as soul preparation for the entry of the seventh, ninth and eleventh.

Indeed. There are many now operating in the thirteenth. This temple, this crystalline structure is sitting at a intersection of the third and thirteenth dimensions. There are other such intersections. And on the intersections of the third and thirteenth dimensions, becomes a very powerful portal or window where one can effortlessly glide between the dimensions.

However, let us continue discussing the twinning earth energy of the fifth dimension right now.

Because, in the fifth dimensional earth energy right now, the melting glacial earth energy softens the blue release and sends out a great flow of love, support and Divine – let us use the word – energy.

In the fifth dimensional experience there is a reconfiguration of the planetary experience where those who have fully stepped into this energy will naturally discover themselves in a manner of their own migration. There are many migrations that are simultaneously happening on your world now.

There is a forced migration in third dimensional energy that is filled with pain and chaos, for this is the way of learning in the third dimension. And there is a voluntary migration in the fifth dimensional energy where many feel called to shift, move, lift and sift.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Yet, to be able to find the intersections of the third and the thirteenth is to be able to effortlessly ignite a Divine stream of energy whereby one is able to sustain being in physical form which also being in ascended presence.

One does not need to live in these energies. However, it is a good viable gift to discover these energies, to expand around the globe, to notice where these energy portals are and to be able to touch them, ignite through them, and carry these windows with you. Even now, for those of you who have already touched these areas – and you may have touched them and not be aware that you have. You will notice that we are opening the window between the worlds in this moment now.

Many of you may be noticing, if your eyes are open, that the room may be feeling cloudy or misty. You may even have seen the opening. Those of you with your eyes closed may have already seen the crystalline temples of your own Divine soul's journey. You may have found yourself teleporting to these areas.

There are those who may listen to us now and say, "This is hokum, rubbish. Not happening." Indeed, each being is having the experience of the dimensional energies that they are carrying with them now.

Cosmic anchors, known as crystals were birthed. We were going to say brought, however that demands too much explanation. So let us say birthed. They were birthed in this form. In this world experience, so that literal touchstones were available. The touchstone of this stone, the large eye of the cosmos that sits here is this temple is but one. And, this one carries with it the energy of the womb of Divine creation of birth, rebirth, and of Divine miracle presence. What does this truly mean? It means that within each beings ascended presence now lays the opportunity to fully harness, create and move forward through the perception of the adversity, the chaos, and the fear.

However, beloved angels, when one relies on anything outside of their own Divine nature, one gives away a piece of their ability to harness, manifest and create.

At the time of the expanding energy now, there are many, many, many, who are seeking to bring forward a culminating moment of the third density experience of the journey of Gaia. And, there are many, many, many, who are aware of the refining energy that has been occurring on the planet and have begun to ignite their freedom and their presence.

And there are many that are trapped between the two.

It is important to recognize, to have mercy on all, every being, regardless of the number of legs or no legs, it may carry, every being that is affiliated with this particular planet, this particular energy of density, is going through a metamorphosis now. Every being is metamorphosizing.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

For those of you who are aware, you may already now be seeing the crystalline sparkles that are flying before you. You may see them in front of you. You may see them in your mind's eye. You may simply be aware that you are in the presence of brilliant sparkles.

These sparkles of energy are revealing to thee the blessing of knowing that you are formless enjoying form, that you are eternal and that you are here at a time of Divine celebratory energy when you choose to step into the Divine nature of the ascended presence of the brain of form. This happens through the unity of the heart and through embracing the flow of the watery filled planet that that you are on.

Is it any surprise that of course the melting of the glacial structure would be a simultaneous occurrence. And, it is important to recognize within they own Divine nature that each being is the one who is the in-di-vid-u- will of the spark of the oneness able to create in an instant that which they seek to call forward.

This is not simply relegated to one type or specific individual or another. Every being, every being, even the ones that are single-celled carry within them the spark to be able to create. In the knowing of this, we invite thee now to dive into the womb of your eternal creation.

Dive into the crystalline temple of your own nature.

Dive into the recognition that everything is lifting and everything is moving at a pace that cannot keep pace with a brain of linear form.

To hold tightly to that which is before thee now and believe in a one aspect scenario, is to make a decision to anchor, to connect to that root chakra harmony that we have already offered to thee. Notice it is still there. Feel that energy. Feel it as you notice it is pulsing within thee.

The blessing of golden infinite energy, constantly birthing, constantly rising. For it is only the energy within that can put as they would say, a stopper on this energy and keep it contained within the body.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Or, it is your Divine love, enthusiasm, celebratory recognition, that as you ignite the upper chakras of the body, you will free this infinite energy. It will pour out of you vastly, and it will sustain itself through your continued recognition that you freed this energy. The energy is available. The energy is pulsing.

For those that do not understand, or care to understand the energy, for those that seek to destroy the energy, this thumping is very, very base, very deep, very hard, and very force-filled. For those who seek to breathe up the energy, and lift into the fifth dimensional experience, or beyond, and this is effortlessly done so for the seventh is very much open through the cosmic eye energy and through the energy of the Divine stillness within that ignites the passionate action of the world you are in now.

Regressing a moment, we wish to share with thee now, that as you ignite this energy, as you pay attention to this energy, as you expand with this energy, there are great governmental conflicts that are rising on your planet. These are no longer avoidable. Yet, they are not inevitable.

What do we mean by this? That there is a moment in the energy of your divinity that has come forward now and is calling to you; and is inviting you to lift into the truth of your Divine presence in all ways. To see the beloved experience of your formless form, your formless form. To see this as the implosion of many systems begins and circles, and there is not anywhere that is immune.

It is a time to dance. It is a time to take active presence through the dance of the interweaving of the consciousness of the ascended process in harmony with the crystalline matrix. And to be present; be present and be present. Many will begin to think that they are alone in the process. Many will begin to think that they are going crazy. Many will begin to feel great rounds of depression. And many will be challenged in the world of density because the call of the density experience now.

We were going to say goop, but this does not feel correct.

So let up just say the soup of the planetary thought body of the third dimension is so thick with manipulation that it is very attractive; even to those that are touching fifth dimensional frequencies. There is great attractiveness when it is found comfortable to stick with something that has had written history as its predecessor.

And yet, in the world as you know it now, more has been forgotten than is known. More has been buried or burned than has been revealed. There is so much that is available to thee when one is able to lift into the realms of fifth dimensional experience. And this is easily done while still carrying form, through the relaxation of the mind of the form into the trust of the Divine mind of the formless.

Carry with you reminders of your Divine nature if you find it challenging to remember at all times. Perhaps your Divine nature is a small stone or crystal. Perhaps it is as simple as gazing at the sky, or picking up a leaf. It does not matter. And gather together as often as you can with those who are truly anchored in the presence of energy that you are comfortable being with.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

If your presence of energy seeks to be in third dimensional energy and you are comfortable there, even listening to this message screaming and yelling, saying this is bunk, then please be with those who believe you. Be with those who support you, for you will be happy there. Regardless of what comes in around you, you will find comfort there. If you are listening to this saying, I feel so good now, I want to feel this way always, then begin to actively be with those. Connect with those. Say hello to those who can be with thee. This is the migration of the soul that is in lifting energy now.

Great migration, great movement. Everything is moving in a gentle spin. And this spin will continue and it will amplify. It is easier to spin with a dance partner who knows the moves of the dance than it is to spin with one who just arrived and does not know the music. It is a Divine moment of escalating energy. And this is a moment where every being is participating. Every being.

As the energy within thee subsides the need to judge, the energy within thee will lift evermore into the gentle spin of the ever-refining spiral of cosmic reunion.

Some say, will we see you in form? Some of you will. Some say, will I ascend with my body? Some of you may. Some say, will the world end in tragedy? For some of you, it very well will.

It is at the heart of the essence of the Divine gift of the formless in form that every in-di-vid-u-will is receiving the blessing of their Divine experience, as their heart and their soul unify.

Each is doing it well. All are doing it well.

And through the all, you are returning into the one.

You may say, "Who are we? Who are you?" We wish for you to hear simply. We are known by so many names. And to offer you the name Cosmic Essene is most accurate; because our energies travel from the center of the cosmic universe in the crystalline beloved temple. We have been known as Blue Star Born. We have been known through the Archangelic Realm. And we are known through each of these now.

The Ascension Pathway: A Cosmic Journey of Remembrance

Through the gift of unified presence we simply wish to say that the Crystalline Brethren are here. And we, through the energy of our Divine presence with you, as you, and through you; have been guided to offer to you simply, Cosmic Essene.

For this label, because indeed all words are labels, are they not? Is one that will ignite within those who choose, the depth of the crystalline DNA, the remembrance and the instantaneous unification of all wisdom. It is a time of ignited wisdom. And it is a time where you are able to navigate without any distraction; as you allow it.

This stone, this Cosmic Eye, this Eye of the Cosmos, is a tangible, multidimensional, reminder carrying within it all of the energy of the crystalline temple of the Divine Oneness. The aspects here, radiating through you now, come to you with great warmth, love, support and the energy of knowing.

If we were to depart today offering you, if only one gift, it would be to close your eyes and see the crystalline temple. Remember your Divine nature there. Breathe when a Divine glacier may melt. See the blue and know the truth of your Divine self. As you radiate this energy, you heal yourself as you heal your world. There are many portals open now. Two earths. Many portals.

We love you, dearly and always. And so it is.
