The Blue Starborn Speak:

Hello beloved brethren of great light. Within the power of divine illumination, there is the energy of the Warrior and the energy of the Lover. There is the energy of the King and there is the energy of the Queen. There is the energy of the Servant and the energy of the Served.

There are many energies that are here... within... for thee to explore.

Hello, beloved ones, hello.

Divine Union and Five

We wish for thee to recognize that within the divine union of all that is here now, is the great and glorious moment and recognition of that which has been given to thee four times within the body you encompass now.

It is FIVE. One hand. Two hand. One foot. Two foot.
Five. Five. Five. And Five.

The energy of the five is illuminating in your world now and with it comes a great energy field, a force that brings with it a recognition and reunification of all energies that have been hidden, as they would say... tried to remove, as you might guess.

And energies that have been out in the open,
and yet are not so visible for thee to understand.

If you are to take the energy of five and create a star.

For some you may say; “Oh this star scares me, for in the past they have called this pentagram. And based on how this star is hung, it can offer me an energy that feels not so comfortable.”

Understanding the Five Pointed Star

We offer the energy of five to thee today. In the energy of the golden Metronian¹ experience. We offer it to you simply from its original form which is the Metronian star.

When a Metronian five pointed star ignites itself again, it does not matter which point is where. It does not matter whether it is up or down or sideways or what some may perceive as backwards or frontwards. It does not matter.

The star energy is there!

In your world illumination, throughout the experience, the expanded experience, of the ... let us use the words... dogmatic traditions... on your planet, there have been many, many, many misperceptions, or you may say, misconceptions of your divine origin, your divine expansion, and the way to offer you unity.

In the energy that creates disharmony, there is the energy that creates dogma. Dogma seeks to feed upon disharmony in order to be able to control the disharmony in a way that serves greater disharmony.

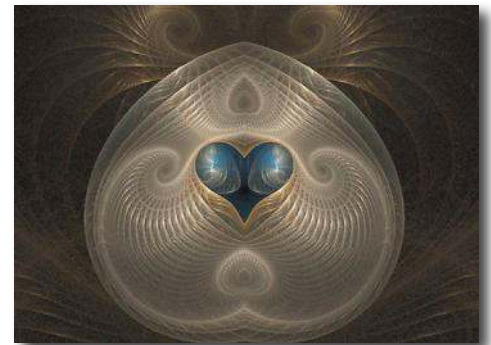

To create a system that expands is to create an opportunity for chaos. Now think deeply here and then let go of thought. We encourage thee to feel more than for thee to think.

To feel in the energy of your divine wisdom is to go deep within the heart of your own center. Deep within your heart, in the Blue Jewel that sits within the golden seed deep within your heart, is a cosmic illumination.

This cosmic illumination cannot ever be controlled.

It cannot ever be told what to do.

It cannot ever be created into a dogmatic system beliefs because simply IS.

1. The reference here to Metronian is a direct link to the Archangel Metatron and the Energy of Enoch.

You are the Star

What is it? It is the gift of pure Essence, the gift of pure Love, the gift of Divine Union.

In a gift of Divine Union, all actions are centered from the actions of the Universe, thereby they need not to be in a situation that would create a controlling mechanism.

Breathe beloved ones and as you do, feel the energy of this blue energy within thee. You may say, "Help us understand this energy in the focus of this five that you offer us today." And we say... gladly.

Within the Metronian energy, there are the four soul groups² and the unifying code of energy.

The five.

The four soul groups and the unifying code of energy. The five. The unifying code of energy strings together like a beautiful wave of divine light that cannot ever be stopped, a pulse wave that has gone out for eons.

In the four soul groups that are reunifying on your world now, this unifying principle, this fifth element, so to speak, this fifth energy, is what creates the transformational process that brings you through to the other side.

For many, you will begin to feel as though you may be going crazy. You may say, "I am beginning to think thoughts that don't make sense in conjunction with what the books of my time tell me. Why am I drawn to the ancient books? Why am I drawn to ancient scripts? Why am I reading things and suddenly notice that there are things there that are not commonly seen?"

It is because this unifying energy, this fifth element, is waking up within all.

This strand, this code, this molecule, this element, is many things. And as it ignites again within your heart, the star begins to illuminate. If you were to stand beloved ones, with your feet at shoulder width and your arms straight out, you would notice YOU are a five pointed star!

Your leg is one point.

Your other is the second point.

Your arm is the third point.

Your other arm is the fourth point and your head is the fifth.

What is in the middle?

The Heart.

² These are revealed and described in the book 2012: You Have a Choice

The Center of the Star

Within the center of a true five-pointed star, which you are, is all of the energy of all of the soul groups as to say, and the unified strand of divine Oneness that cannot be taken away for you were created in the image of the Unification.

*To create stories around the five-pointed star is to encourage you to forget who you are.
To remember yourself as the Divine Metronian upliftment, the energy of all that is,
is to also release all judgment.
To create the society that lives to judge each other as separate from another is to create a world of further separation.*

*Within the energy of the true five pointed star, there is no separation.
There is no judgment.*

There is the recognition, the Unification, the understanding, and the cosmic upliftment.

Within your world now, there are many... we choose our word wisely here... we shall use "secrets".

We use this word intentionally because there are many who seek to hold secret that which for many of you is already truth.

They say you would not understand. They say that if you knew, then perhaps this religion would no longer exist the way it does. They say that perhaps this government may not exist the way it does, or this way of being. They say that you cannot be trusted to know, and yet, the only way that you can trust and know is without the proof or the evidence that has been secreted from you.

There are great chambers in your world now that contain many revelations that many already know as true. You must go beyond the need to see something literally written in stone or papyrus of ancients.

You must go beyond the need to see to understand that you already are. The need to see negates you to Be.

Do you understand this, beloved ones? Take a breath.

The need to see with the eyes of density negates your ability to Be.

Becoming the Illuminated Star of Divine Grace

To challenge yourself is to keep you in a state of constant confusion. To set up tests that can never be met will also keep you in a state of solidness... and seeking a state of solidness.

A state of solidness, is one way to Be.

And for some, a state of solidness feels good and grounded.. and this is good... and for others, a state of solidness feels heavy and constricting and there is the need to feel freer and lighter.

It is your choice, beloved ones, where you are to be.
And yet within your choice, there is a guiding light that has all-ways been.

Stretch out your arms wide and stand tall.
And as you stand tall and stretch out your arms wide, feel yourself illuminate as the five-pointed Metronian star that you are.

Feel the energy of the above come in through your crown.

Feel the energy Gaia come up through your feet.

Feel the energy of the Universe flood in through your hands, and feel these five points unite in your heart and extend out from your chest,
extend out from you back in your heart center,
as you become the illuminated star of divine grace.

The Abode of the Divine RA

In your world now, another abode has ignited again with great Presence. It is a very ancient abode. It is the abode of the divine Ra. And the abode of the divine Ra exists over the ancient city that you know as Thebes³.

Over this ancient city of Thebes, the abode of the divine Ra is an illuminated Metronian star.
And within this abode, there is a great gift of golden light.
To receive this gift of golden light is as simple as standing tall with your arms out and to feel yourself receive it. To call this energy forward toward you.

You are at a moment now where confusion energy is rampant and abundant across your planet. Rampant and abundant. It is easy to run each day, "I am confused. I am confused. I do not know what to do. Show me the way."

Only to ask many who they themselves are confused.

How do you walk through a moment of confusion if you are confused yourself and you have others who are confused as those who are to guide you?

This is a powerful question and it is a good question.
You beloved ones!

Within you now you have the gift of alleviating all confusion.

You stand and call in the energy of your divine illuminated process. You remember that you are a unified stream of divine light. You open your heart and exhale that which no longer serves as you breathe in that which does.

Ignite the center of your divine star of Metronian light and remember that this is but a playground!

This is the playground, so beloved children, play.

How you play is certainly up to you.

And how your world receives your play is up to your world.

³ Thebes is a city in Ancient Egypt on the east bank of Nile within the modern city of Luxor.

The Golden Ignition has begun

Within your heart is a great and open presence, a unification energy that has reignited and resurfaced on your planet in a way that will offer many greater alchemical... let us choose the word... ignition.

For those that seek to work with the elements, all of the elements are available, for in the power of the five is the power of all of the elements. In the power of the center, is the gift of the divine light.

In the abode of the cosmic Ra that exists as a star over the ancient Thebes is a great and glorious moment of reunification. This energy has started its quest to reignite those who carry the energy of golden light. This does not mean that you must carry a golden coin. It simply offers you the gift of golden ignition.

You are a golden light.

You are a golden ignition.

You are a great star.

You carry the power of all the elements within thee.

And when you take the two hands and you take the two feet and you add the entire body as your other five, you find that you are five again.

Two hands, two feet, one body... five again.

The energy of this has been with you in all-ways. There are no accidents as to all of the conformed shapes that you have allowed your body to be. These energies carry with them themselves the opportunity for you to recreate.

If you have doubted thyself, then forgive thyself.

If you live in confusion, then invite yourself to live in clarity.

If you feel that you are not abundantly supported, then stand tall and call in that support.

For you have this gift with you.

There are not any systems around you that can take that away, for only you can give it to yourself.

No one can ever take it from you.

The Silent Witness

Allow yourself to be a silent witness...the silent observer, and the one who walks forward with great Presence. And may your heart recognize the power of this moment, the power of all moments.

You are every star. And when you see the stars again, may you smile in recognition that every brilliant light is sending you the signal to remember who you are. And the moment you do, the moment you do, you ignite again and your energy will ignite another star, and another star, and another star.

This is a powerful moment!

Release judgment.

Release the concept and embrace the truth and the gift.

You are divinely positioned, poised, and ready for an extraordinarily large jump in your evolution collectively and individually.

Let go of your confusion and you will walk through this moment effortlessly. Or dive into the confusion and enjoy the ride. It is your choice, beloved ones. We simply wish to offer you clarity on the choices that are before you now.

We love you. We are greatly and profoundly honored to witness you. You have moved forward in ways that have surprised all and delighted all and yet you are still moving. Do not ever let go of your movement, for if you do, you will allow yourself the binding of density. It is your choice.

Do you wish to be bound to density, or do you wish to fly in the gift of divine expansion.
You are a star and you are illuminated.
And your truth is within thee.

Breathe beloved ones.

And so it is.
