Embracing Galactic Re-alignment

Through Wisdom Teacher Sri Ram Kaa & Angelic Oracle Kira Raa
Delivered at the TOSA Giant Merkabah Consecration, September 2, 2006

Yes! We are here. From all areas and all beings and all dimensions and all times and all travels as you would say, we come to you today through the Golden ray of the Metronian¹ spirit. Through the opening of the Divine Elohim, there is great dispensation, a joyous time is upon you now for your planet and all planets aligned with galactic realignment.

Opening the 144 Shaakras² of Realignment

Your spine is already resonating with realignment. The spine and the nerves and the systems of the spine are all saying Yes to this galactic energy. In the central nervous systems that runs up the spine, and with all that is indeed part of that which you call a chakra system, it is time, dearest children, for you to activate the 144 shaakras.

You say Dearest One, what are the shaakras? What is the difference between a chakra and the shaakras? The shaakras of this time are the 144 Divine Connectors that assembled from the 12 energies of the ascension areas of the Divine Galactic Blueprint. In the ascension areas the 12 points of the ascended chakra system, (the Divine Galactic Blueprint), the 144 shaakras, all beckon with light, in divine connection with the Elohimian³ path, that has opened before you the portal of greatest alignment now.

Your planet, this sphere as you call it, this divine area, known to you as Earth, or Gaia, is the planet of Divine Nourishment. Before you are great, great openings and powerful recognitions.

Before you now are those things that you have waited for, the time that you have been present for, the opportunities that you have waited for.

The Physical Body and the Realignment

Your bodies Are Will...Are Will. Yes, those two words are being said together intentionally.

Your bodies Are and your bodies Will, be responding very, very rapidly.

They are already responding to the realignment, and the primary systems in response are the central nervous system and the spine. The central nervous system and the spine are looking forward to a realignment that is happening that cannot occur on the table, as you would call it. You can not lay down and let someone crack up your spine and say you are adjusted, hmm, no. (much laughter) It will not happen that way.

Indeed the adjustment that is happening now is an adjustment and a realignment that is reconfiguring your own DNA structuring. This divine portal of direct communion, which has always been, is simply more available to more people, to more beings, to more energies. It has always been, and yet, in the grand recognition, in the grand availability, those that are now ready to come forward and say Yes, will find great realignment.

In the great re-alignment, you must be clear in what you wish to have realigned. We could play with the words and you know this. There is no need to play with the words, the question is, dearest ones:

“If you are an army of Lions, yet you are led by a Lamb, how do you go forward?”

Recognizing Divine Elohimian Contact

What are you? You are many, many, many energies. You are more than just one energy. The concept that you are an energy, is the density-based concept of limited perception to that which you are. You are more than one energy.

You are multiple expressions of multiple energies of multiple dimensions that are having an extraordinary multiple experience; a multiple expression.

You are aligned with many expressions and in the alignment of many expressions, it is time for you to interface with many more expressions. At this time, in the cycle of that which has been expanding in this world for eons, you are at the time of Divine Elohimian Contact!

In the recognition of Divine Elohimian Contact, your heart will initially wish to expand in many ways; and for many, the heart will not expand, it will impand, as we shall say.

Now you say what kind of word is impand? We shall explain. In the impanding what will happen, many will implode the energy of their own expansion back into their own being-ness, out of absolute recognition that realignment many be too terrifying, too scary, too misunderstood, because the brain will be functioning in many different ways.

What percentage of your brain is functioning? Ask yourself right now! Do not pay attention to the formulas you have been presented, simply go deep into your own heart. What percentage of my divine brain is working now? Trust what you hear. Trust what you hear.

When you listen to that which is speaking to you, through you, as you, and in you, you open up to the greater form of recognition communication.

So many say to us; “I want Divine Contact right now”. What they are saying is, satisfy my ego brain you really exist, because if I don’t see you, I don’t want to believe you are there. Very fascinating. Of course, those are the same ones that believe in many millions of dollars but may not have seen that either. Very fascinating, is it not?

Indeed, because you are at the time of Divine Recognition, what is it you choose to recognize? For example, again ask yourself, how many are here today that are not in physical form? Yes. Trust what you hear. How many beings are present with you right now? How many have already built crystalline cities in this world you call Earth? How many have already brought forth powerful, divine, immense structures that would make this Merkabah⁴ look like little pittance, little teeny tiny grain of sand? Yes.

Connecting with your Galactic Brethren

How many are here already? How many are here already? How many do you choose to acknowledge? How many do you choose to ignore? You see dearest children, you live in a world where the human brain wishes to compete with the divine brain, and wishes to take over sometimes, no? Yes! It wishes to control, wishes to say OK, you must do this because of this. Always cutting deals with itself, no? Yes!

It is imperative for you to recognize now that the divine recognition, the divine brain so to speak, is in a time of galactic realignment, reunification, with the human brain.

The two are One.

You are many energies. If you were to look at just two of the many energies that you are, the Divine and the human, would that in and of itself not be enough to keep you most busy for a while? Yes! Then add Galactic brethren.

Dearest children, you are at the time of recognition, information, contact, being-ness and presence with your Galactic brethren. They are not the alien you call them to be, they are indeed a spark of you, a piece of you.

You, dearest children, are the galactic brethren you seek.

Look into your own eyes, look at the differences in physical structures, skeletal structures, and the way that you are so similar yet unique in this world. This exists in many dimensions and in many worlds that exist within your own third dimension. So many of you say, please bring dimensionality forward to me now, so that we may have this contact. We offer you this recognition.

All that you seek is before you now, yet are you truly ready for it?

Your emotional brain, your physical brain, will say: “You bet I’m ready. Right now, I want it now, and give me the candy on top”. Yes. And yet dearest children, when you go deep into the truth, deep into the truth of your own DNA, of your vessels, of your blood, of your cells, of your spine that is realigning now, of the central nervous system that is coming forward, very few of you are really ready. Very few.

So many of you wish so much to say just make me safer for this day. Would you pay my bills so I could be safer today? Would you please make my family happier today? Would you please just help me walk one more day without pain? Would you please take away my pain? This dearest children, is a beautiful gift, indeed, because the beautiful gift of the recognition within you, shows you where your a-lionments are waiting to come forward.

Understanding A-Lion-Ment

What are you a-lioned with? Dearest, dearest children, we have beseeched you for two years, yes two years, as you call years in this world, to simply make a choice. We offer you divine and loving reassurance, all choices are indeed in divine order and divine perfection. We simply ask you to make the choice.

What is it you truly, truly, wish to bring forward for yourself?

What is it you truly wish to experience?

You see dearest children, when you say one thing, yet you live another, yet you walk another; you send to us the signal that says please help me continue as I am, and so we honor for you that. We will always honor what you ask for, yet we often do not need words to understand what you are asking for.

Often your words are in conflict with what your many beautiful energy fields are creating.

As you are moving forward in greater a-lionment, as you are moving forward into this great time of recognition of your galactic brethren, how will it be for you? What in your life will have to change when you absolutely know that you are a divine galactic citizen? How much around this world will change? How many are ready? How many do not want to be ready? All good choices, because they are made; making a choice is the good choice. Not making the choice is the hell you see.

Choice and Opportunity

So many of you say deliver me from pain, and then you continue to do what you wish thinking it will stop the pain. And we say OK, we will deliver you from this one pain, so you can continue in the other pain, it is what you seek.

What do you wish right now? Where do you wish to go? What do you wish to do? You see, dearest ones, before you are many, many, many choices and in those choices you must make decisions, and only when you make a decision, does the opportunity come forward in front of you.

So many of you say “I have made my choice, why does nothing change?”

Dearest children, when you have made your choice, have you paid attention to the opportunities that come forward from the choice? You say, but is not that another choice? We ask you, is not that an outcome of a commitment? What are you committed to?

When you commit to your choice the opportunities are many, and they will present themselves to you because you are in the grand, multi-expressional experience of this world!

My goodness, so many expressions. Yes! In your own, as you say lifetime, how many expressions have you had? (Laughter) Simply like clothes in a closet, go count. Today I am red, tomorrow I'm orange, today I'm white, tomorrow I'm blue, whatever. How many times have you offered to yourself more expressions, more understandings?

Can you allow yourself to be expanded into galactic presence? Can you do this? And this is OK, you can say yes or no, it does not matter, just say yes or no. In the yes or no, the opportunities will present themselves.

In the presentation of the opportunities that come forward to you, how you respond to those opportunities, will offer you recognition as to the dedication to the choice you have made.

Often times you say I have made the choice, and then a little simple thing takes you way out of the choice again. Nope, must run away from this one. Yes, is indeed not running away a choice too? Yes.

Embracing Honest Communication with Yourself

What is it you wish to do? What is it you wish to come forward with? Dearest children, the 5th dimension is but a stepping stone of that which is before you now. It is not a destination, as we have mentioned to you so many times before. It is indeed an energy, a presence, a way of living, a way of being that is before you now. Your bodies are in the presence of divine realignment and in the divine realignment, your bodies will take you where you wish to go, in this world.

Protect them dearly. Love them dearly. Let them speak to you.

If you have not had a good conversation with your body recently, please do.

Sit down and have a good knock-down drag-out if you must. Hey knees, how are you doing? What's up hip? What's up with you joints? What's up with you back? Tell me blood, how we feeling today? Yes.

It is wonderful to giggle and it is wonderful to engage. Remember that your bodies wish to engage you. As you engage your divine vessel, and as you engage this opportunity, what you'll find is a grand freedom; Freedom to embrace honest communication with your own beautiful being-ness.

In the honest communication with your own being-ness, many of you will say, lately I feel as if I'm losing much, I am losing money, or I am losing this, or I am losing that, or I can't seem to find anything, or I feel like I'm losing ground, or my projects aren't doing what they should do.

Are you sure? Are you sure?

Lion or Lamb?

You see, dearest ones, you are in the time of great, great Lion energy. Are you a Lion? Or are you a Lamb? If you tenderly, gingerly, tip-toeing around and go baaa, yes, then the world will baaa back. And right around the corner somebody has a clippers for the sheep! Oh my goodness, yes. Yes.

It is true dear ones, that in the time of the Lion, this great, great cycle of the culminating energy of this experience of humans in form this way, this time, bar none, is the single most powerful time that has ever been, in your expression of Light, in density and form.

How do you wish to be? If you wish to be a lamb, then grow a big woolly coat and have good fun. Perhaps you will grow horns, who knows. You could be a ram lamb! Hoo! (Audience Laughter)

It is up to you, what is it you wish? If you wish to be a Lion, what kind of Lion are you? You see dearest children, there is always one

Lion that stands at the top with a roar. This is the one that is heard. What are you? Do you roar for service to humanity, or do you roar for yourself?

You see, dearest children, the time of great service is here. Great service. The greatest gift we can offer you, is to offer your heart the memory that you are here now, and that is the greatest service you could ever offer. We honor you deeply for your great gift of service, because you are here now, you have stayed here, you are in this world, you have stayed.

YOU Make the Difference

You have had your choices, you have had your time, you have had your doubts, you have had your pain, and yet you are here now. We love you beyond compare, we love you beyond compare. Your presence matters, you matter. You have not lost anything, you are at the time of great realignment. How do you wish to be, what do you wish to do?

How will it express? Are you a Lion, are you a Lamb? It is OK! Both will be together, one need not fear the other. Just be clear. In this time right now, in this cycle right now, those of you that carry the Lion will indeed be forging the path for the lamb. A great herd of Lambs, led by one strong Lion, will conquer Lions led by a Lamb. Pay attention.

You are a great service. Your presence is of great service, walk each step with purpose. Breathe each breath with recognition. Love each moment with greater Love.

Stand firm in the truth of your precious being-ness. Together, you and your Galactic brethren, are already co-creating an extraordinary energy.

This energy field is escalating rapidly, and so everything will shake loose. If you are standing in the middle of a whirly-twirly, it spins so fast, you can not hold on! No! So if it's not battened down, it's flying away.

Are you battened to your choice? Or are you not so sure? If you are not so sure, don't get in the twirly whirly. (Much Laughter) Yes! For it will all fly away!

Dearest children, you are no longer living in the world that you thought you were living in, and what is thought anyway, a fleeting substance that offers you a moment of illusionary comfort, an opportunity to play.

So play well. Play great. Play, be, know and do. This is your time! Your presence is so important, we love you dearly. Our hearts, your hearts, your brethren's hearts, are with you often. You are vitally and deeply important. You are honored and your galactic reunification is one play we are looking forward to. Yes. Be prepared.

How do you prepare?

By trusting your own heart. When the mind says I want proof, say thank you mind, I love you too and then go back into your heart and give yourself the gift of knowing. Ask yourself again, how many beings are with you right now? Ask. Ask. How many are with you right now, in this moment? Trust the number, trust what you hear.

Trust. You already have evolved into that which you seek. Are you ready to accept that? That is all. Remember to Breathe.

As you all wish, it shall be.

Stay clear in your choices, stay in the recognition of all that is.

Remember you are at a powerful time of a-lion-ment.

Pay attention to your spine, pay attention to your bodies, pay attention to that which is happening around you now. You are at a great time and all is well.

Many Blessings.
